

Ed Tangredi

Professional Biography

Ed is the Director of Emergency Management at White Plains Hospital in New York. His duties include full responsibility for the Emergency Management Program and serves as the Safety Officer. Additionally, Ed facilitates the LS and EC standards compliance programs for TJC and CMS. He has over 35 years of healthcare experiences

He is part of the City of White Plains Unified Command where he, Deputy Fire Chief Nicols and Police Capt. McMahon established a city-wide coalition focused on training, preparedness and response. Along with Lisa Corcoran of Vassar Brothers Hospital, he co-chairs the Regional MACE Coalition Team (Mutual Aid Coordinating Entity). This team is charged with operationalizing the Hospital Mutual Aid Agreement for the 31 hospitals north of NYC and is the only recognized healthcare coalition in New York State.

Ed holds a BS in Facilities Management, a Masters in Healthcare Administration and is certified in HICS, HSEEP, LEAN Six Sigma. He is also a certified OSHA HazWoper Technician and a Certified Emergency Manager from IAEM.

Additionally, he is a member of the National Healthcare Coalition Preparedness Conference, IAEM and the American College of Healthcare Executives.